

CHRISTMAS PARTY

*Sheraton Copenhagen Hotel
13th December 1986
Saturday, 18:00*

DEDICATION

This special souvenir program is dearly dedicated to all FAD members whose loyalty and support made their Association cogent and established.

This year starts a tradition of having a unique program issued at every end of the term of the FAD president, where pictures of the members are printed together with their greetings. This aims to enhance acquaintanceship among the members.

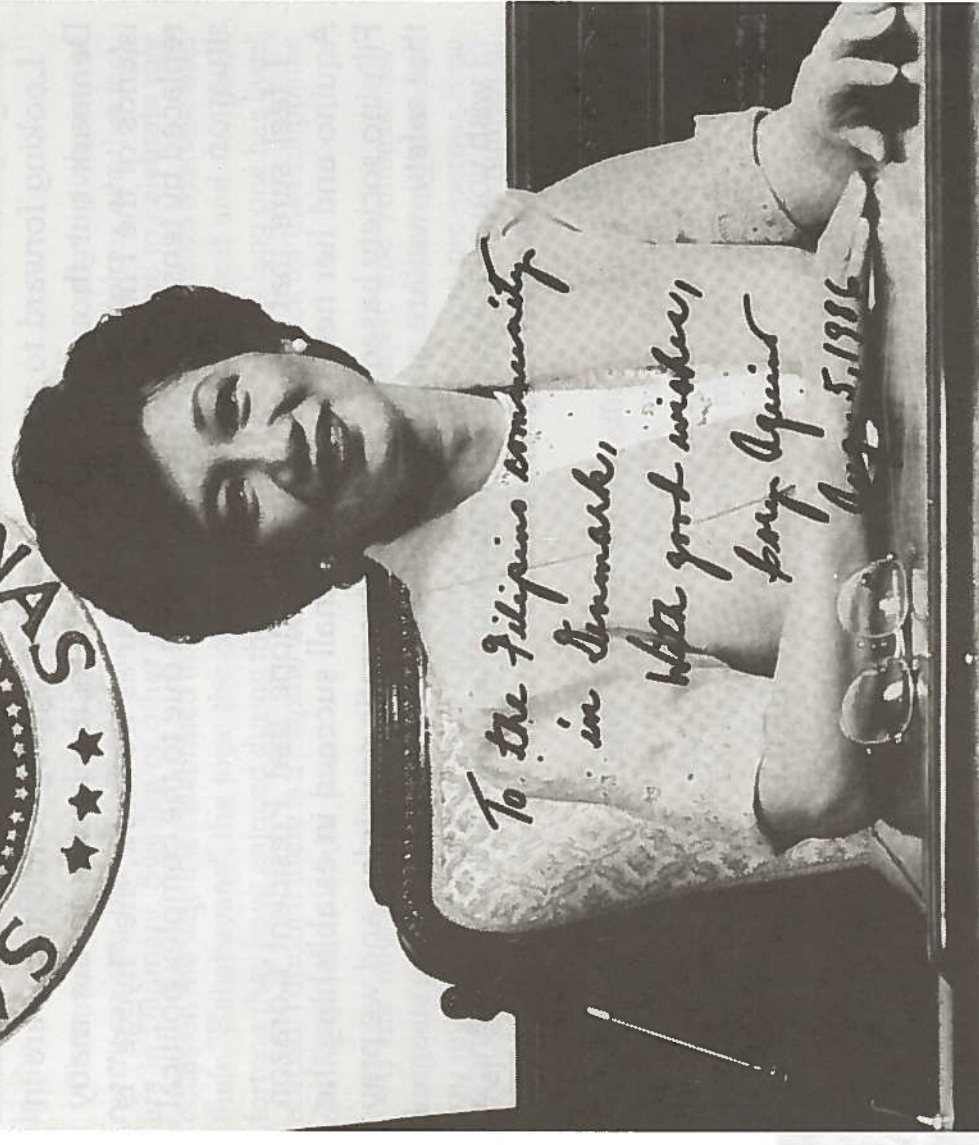

We acknowledge this years sponsors. Without them this program would never have made a good start. We hope that this tradition would be carried on through the years, collecting FAD sweet memories.

OUR COVER

"Tatlong Parol" (Three Lanterns). Lanterns are the most ubiquitous visual signs of Filipino Christmas which are the counterparts of the Danish "julehjerte" or Christmas hearts. These lanterns are star shaped usually, representing the star of Bethlehem. The frames are made of bamboo sticks covered with colored translucent paper, illuminated by a candle light or bulb inside.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT AQUINO

MESSAGE FROM THE CONSUL

Looking forward to a peaceful and "hyggelig" Christmas here in Denmark our thoughts inevitably go to the homes in the many islands of the Philippines where, as far as we know, the "hygge" is replaced by tension, anxiety and unrest due to the complex political situation.

I feel sure that we all share the hope that President Corazon Aquino and her new government shall succeed in establishing the Filipino society based on sound democratic principles, and we pray that safety, welfare and happiness shall prevail.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas together with your families and a happy and prosperous New Year.

Mabuhay!

MESSAGE FROM THE AMBASSADOR

It is again the time of the year when we start preparing for the celebration of Christendom's most important and festive occasion. We know that Christmas is just around the corner when we see the department stores festooned with colorful decorations and multicolored lights and there is a certain feeling of gaiety in the air.

Christmas in the Philippines is a time for family re-unions, of gift-giving and of merry-making. It is not therefore surprising that expatriate Filipinos, whether they are in Denmark, Sweden or other parts of the world, continue to celebrate this occasion the way it is celebrated in the Philippines. It is an occasion to share with their "Kababayans" the joys, the camaraderie, the good food and the good fortune they have enjoyed during the year. Regardless of how long one has lived abroad, I doubt if there is a Filipino who doesn't feel homesick for the Philippines during this time of the year.

As the new Ambassador of the Philippines to Sweden, and Ambassador-designate to Denmark and Norway, I would like to take this occasion to greet all of you my "Kababayans" a Merry Christmas and a peaceful and prosperous New Year. Those of you who have not gone home to the Philippines for a number of years now, may take this time of the year to visit your relatives and see the country.

May I take this opportunity to commend the officers and members of the Filipino Association in Denmark (FAD) for their unity and for the notable accomplishments of their association during the past sixteen years of its existence and to enjoin them to continue serving not only the members but also Filipinos visiting Denmark and in promoting and enhancing a good image of the Philippines in their respective communities.

Mabuhay at Maligayang Pasko at Manigong Bagong Toon sa inyong Lahat.

12 November 1986.

HONORIO T. CAGAMPAN
Ambassador

MESSAGE FROM THE OUTGOING PRESIDENT

One measure of an association's success is certainly its progress from the time of inception through the years of existence. A sturdy and honest management is not meant only for the few but for the good of the whole community.

In sixteen years, the Filipino Association of Denmark have taken many steps to ensure success. And it was made possible through many constituents - a hard working Board of Directors with full cooperation of various committees is one of the main factors.

I therefore, would like to take this opportunity, to thank all my colleagues and supportive friends for the achievements we all have attained. I also wish the next administration's success on their future endeavor.

In behalf of my family, I wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Tak skal I ha'! Glædelig Jul og Godt Nytår.

Maraming salamat po. Maligayang Pasko at Masaganang Bagong Taon sa inyong lahat!

MESSAGE FROM THE INCOMING PRESIDENT

Whenever Christmas comes, my only fervent wish is the realization of the angles' herald many centuries ago: "Peace on earth, goodwill towards men". Eversince, peace seems to become more of a jargon or a fantasy too faraway to come true because of man's rough ways of preserving peace and often he tries to find it in the wrong places. During rare times when peace finally had the chance to live, it wouldn't take long till others came to nip it with their greed and malicious belief.

This Christmas, I wish each and everyone in the community the success in their pursuit of peace, not only to their families and neighbors but likewise to themselves. Let us all sing and do for the world: "All we are saying is, give peace a chance".

Mrs. SALLY HANSEN
FAD President, 1987-88

MESSAGE FROM THE SPIRITUAL ADVISER

History tells us that the Danish King Valdemar led his troops to victory in 1219. During a critical moment, a celestial red flag with a white Cross came down from heaven. It became "Dannebrog" the national flag for victory.

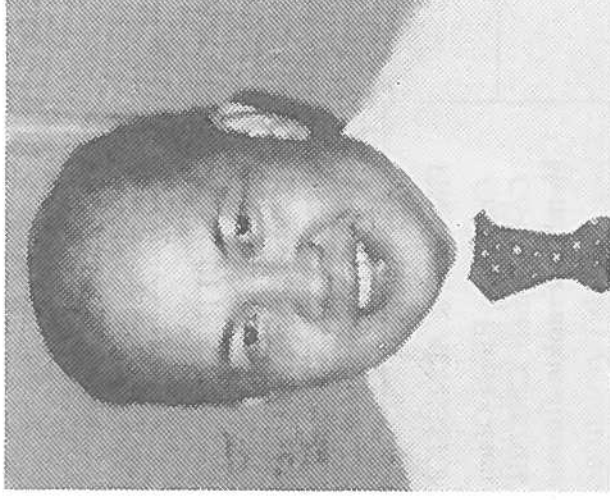

This year 1986, it is the turn of the Danes to salute the Filipinos for a great democratic victory. Without battle or bloodshed, but with Faith and determination. One million brave Pinoys took their stand in the streets of Manila; and Heaven blessed them with a glorious victory.

It was not won just by a chance get together of Filipinos in the month of February; rather had they learned that Peoples's Power comes from working together for a worth while goal. May that same "Bayanihan" spirit be seen here in Denmark, where the Filipinos have so much to contribute not only by hard work and discipline, but by their warmth, humanity and Faith. This is the tradition they have learned from the Santo Nino of Bethlehem. As never before, must the world acknowledge their innate ability to greatness. Just when the hour is darkest, and hope is dim, the Filipino is at his best.

Happy New Year to all Pinoys in your "Land of the Morning". Our Prayers and good wishes go with you this Christmas season.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

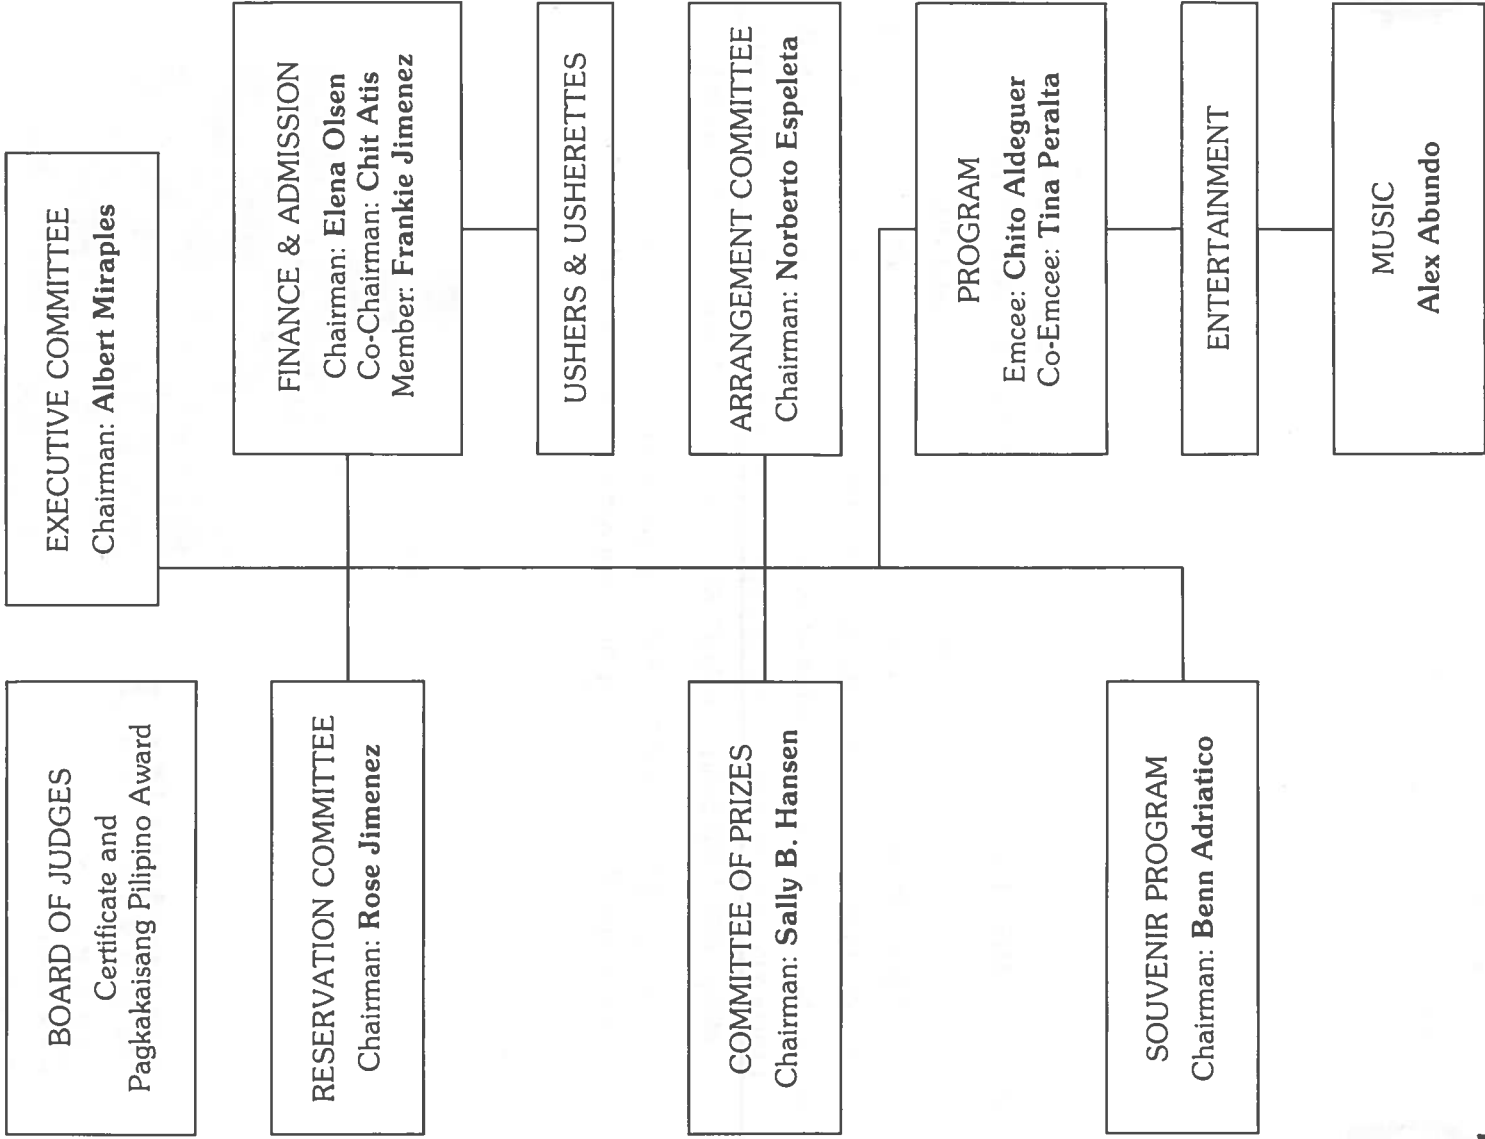

It is a deep pleasure that we welcome the incoming officers of the Filipino Association of Denmark for the next term of office.

To them we bestow our blessings of hope that they may lead the Association with paramount consideration to the needs and expectations of the members. A more active leadership geared towards the realization of the aims and purposes of the Association will no doubt be the right direction. But then a reciprocal activeness and participation by the members are a must too.

To each and all, my season's greetings (of a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year!).

PROFILE:
OUR "PET"
WOMAN

"Many call her names.
"Our Lady of Per-Petra-L Help" is among them."

It is easy to find the word "PETRA" in the dictionary. It is between the words "helpful" and "merciful". Ate Petra or Manang Petra or Aling Petra (eller Peehtra pá dansk) or Tandang Petra to the next generations of Danays (Fil-Dane mestizos) is a woman who is gifted of a heart of an angel that none of the existing kind adjectives are enough to describe her.

She oftentimes intimidates us Earthlings who are skeptical of the existence of a descended divine human being. A colleague frowny nominates her to be a chairman of a Red Cross Chapter. Another one credulously foresees her to be canonized in the year 3000. Still another calls her name of which "Our Lady of Per-Petra-L Help" is among others.

Well! That fact is, a Petra Garcia really exists. She is flesh and blood; a woman who readily helps anyone, be her friend or enemy, who falls into trouble and comes knocking to her door for assistance. She is ubiquitous not only in FAD affairs but also in private parties. Her numerous friends simply like her.

She has the difficulty of saying "no" or disappointing people. She would readily help even if her chances in doing it would be very slim. Sometimes she goes to the extreme of putting the FAD in her priority list before her family or her own personal interests. "Isn't this too much?" asked one doubting member who does not closely know her. But Ate Petra could frustrate her skeptics by "being herself". She cries when she gets hurt, screams when things run over her cup, and frowns or gets angry when situations simply go far beyond her limits.

She was formerly a treasurer of the FAD and one of the best FAD ever had. The success of the Popularity Contests of 1985 and 1986 was due to her superb chairmanship. In forming sub-committees of the contests, it was inevitable to suggest her chair or co-chair a committee though she was the only member of the FAD. It was because she fits in any committee to a T and delivers results excellently. An officer sourly exclaimed, "Where would the FAD be without a Petra Garcia?" Petra Garcia is not just a name it is a household trademark.

On top of these, she never expects remunerations for what she has ever done nor keeps a list of "mga utang-na-loob" or debts-of-gratitude.

Ate Pet turned 50 this year. She was born on February 16 under the sign of Aquarius. Astrology followers will nod their heads that her humanitarian tendencies are influenced by the stars. Stars or no stars Ate Petra has great interest on people.

She is not only a good wife to Ka Tony or a loving mother to Lita, Jun and Donald. Likewise, she is a caring mother-in-law to Alex Santos and a dear granny to Lita's children. No wonder, she is the favourite of many parents to be a godmother to their children and a first choice to witness in weddings.

Do I need to write more in order to justify the award given to her as the most outstanding member of 1985-1986? As a matter of fact, the honor is lowly when it comes to evaluating her contributions for the betterment of the FAD and the Filipino community. She deserves more than just the title, "Our Lady of Per-Petra-L Help".

THE YEARS THAT WERE

*No traces left of all the busy scene
But that remembrance says:
The things have been.*

Samuel Boyce

When we took over the administration in 1985, it was like saying to my colleagues, "Come on pals, let's roll our sleeves and get started immediately with no time wasted." We were faced with so many demands. And with only a scratch to begin with, we were not optimistic to come up with results satisfactory to the members.

Fund Campaign

With practically zero balance in the account, the Association couldn't go any further. We tried all possible ways to solve the financial constraint by holding bingo sessions, inspiring with confidence for more membership, encouraging the members to pay their dues on time and following up the application for a subsidy. Fortunately, the response from the members was excellent. The number of membership was tripled compared to the years before and the revenue in the membership fee campaign was doubled.

Two popularity contests were held: one for the Misses and the other for the Mmes. The contest successfully met our expectations to buy a copy-machine to print out the monthly INFO and a sound system for the Association's social affairs. The excess was used to pay the bills of the FAD.

Information Campaign

Reaching out every primary objective. It was as the fund campaign medium of the Association was regularly circulated formative materials like ment policies and pro interest to the memb and projects; entertain humour; contained fe obituaries, personal ack sages etc... It was ar though its restriction few pages cannot inc group opinion and a very slim chance for enthusiastic writers to print their viewpoints.

Social Affairs

In a country like Denmark where the summers are short and the winters are long and costs thousands of crowns away from the Philippines, social affairs are more of a necessity than a luxury. The members need a venue to socialize themselves with one another in order to fill the vacuum of homesickness and nostalgia. They need a chance to get involved and a formal outlet to express or display their values to the Danes.

Three big activities like Valentines Party, Independence Celebration and Christmas Party are our ways of showing to the Danes our urge to integrate using the best of their culture and mix it with the best of our own. We do not forget our children. They too have a party of their own. The FAD holds a Children's Party on the last Sunday of December (or innocents' day) or first Sunday of January, which are financed by the proceeds in carolling. Carollers braved the freezing and snowy weather, bringing the spirit of Christmas from house to house beginning from 1st to 23rd of December except Sundays.

The FAD acknowledges the importance of sports especially basketball for the young and bowling for the adults. The FAD stars and FAD Scorio (basketball teams) has been competing fairly in the Danish league. The Filipino Eagle bowling team meets regularly. They too, had competed with the Danish kingpins. It is hoped that after welcoming Paeng Nepomuceno and Bec Watanabe, the bowling champions of the Philippines, the Eagles who had watched their games closely will be more inspired and gather more membership.

Cultural Concern

The Pista Sa Nasyon held in September had become a very important affair of the Association. This year, it had attracted many Danes who had not been aware of the existence of a Filipino community in the country. Although it was not a close as the typical Filipino fiesta due to lack of open space, money to finance it and stable weather, the Pista Sa Nasyon was able to present the most important element of the feast which is the Philippine cuisine of oriental and occidental extraction. Many cooking enthusiasts participated. People came to look curiously. Some came to dine and drink, and many came to shop and brought the rare food at home. It is believed that the activity will flourish and improve basing from the comments and expectations of the Danes.

In April, 1985, the FAD had arranged a solo-exhibition of Filipino painter, Edsel Moscoso. He had impressed Denmark with his series of paintings regarding Filipino ways of life.

Member's Incentives

Aside from discount in entrance fee during parties, the FAD also gives the Pagkakaisang Filipino Award to a member for his/her outstanding merits relevant to the goodwill of the Association. The Award which was initiated in 1980, is conferred by the Philippine Ambassador accredited to Denmark.

A Christmas draw is held every year for bonafide members, i.e. members who have fully and promptly paid their membership dues. The fabulous prizes are solicited from charitable private donors.

Disappointments and Frustrations

We can proudly say that the past two years gained new momentum for the FAD though it was inevitable to have frustrations and disappointments. None of our more concerted efforts could have controlled them. Sometimes, we justified these faults as part and parcel of human organization. The FAD Clubhouse at Amagerbrogade, for one, was a big fiasco even from the very start of our term. There was a move to give

The FAD Clubhouse at Amagerbrogade, for one, was a big fiasco even from the very start of our term. There was a move to give it up but the decision made during the joint meeting of the Board of Trustees and Board of Directors was to give the Clubhouse a try. The Clubhouse experiment endured a year end three quarters. Most of the savings for the FAD were slowly sucked up by the rent of the Clubhouse.

We couldn't help ourselves crying over spilled milk nor keep ourselves commenting: "Sayang, the FAD could have saved a lot if we had settled earlier for a smaller office."

Vis-a-vis the Clubhouse fiasco was the denied application of a subsidy from the Danish government. Tremendous follow-ups, telephone conversations and consultations of different resource persons were made, yet the application was denied due to a vague reason that the FAD is "not politically involved". As to the definition of "politically involved", the FAD was not given any elucidation.

A Philippine cultural exhibition was supposed to hold in June 1986. The then Philippine Ambassador in London had announced his willingness to support and provide the necessary materials. The Copenhagen Town Hall Officials likewise showed their interest and approval. The planning stage was almost through but then, the political upheaval in the Philippines in February had totally stopped the exhibition.

Re-writing the FAD Constitution didn't reach its ratification when the chairman of the committee resigned. Hopefully, it will be tackled by the new administration.

FAD, Not Just an Organization

The Association holds its identity as an ethnic organization. Since we have only a honorary Consulate here, its intermediary and diplomatic roles can not be ignored.

The FAD had welcomed, assisted and hosted receptions to: Philippine delegates to the World Conference on the UN for Women in 1980; Trade mission delegates in 1980; Philippine delegates of the 10th EEC-Sponsored Philippine Selling Mission in 1981; Fashion models sponsored by the Trade Office of the Philippines; the members of the UP Concert Chorus; and Philipines' Young Ambassadors Ranjit Ramos Shahani (1980) and Victoria Noelle de Leon Francisco (1984).

In 1981, the FAD had saved two Filipinas from the cruelty and maltreatment af an ambassador to Denmark; it had requested for the exemption of Filipino seamen from the ruling of the Filipino Seamen's Board and was approved in 1985; with the assistance of the Consulate, it arranged cheaper and immediate transport of the corpse of a Filipino tourist in 1982, and guided and comforted the bereaved family; and had helped relatives of two FAD members held in the immigration in London while in transit for Copenhagen.

The FAD is alive and continues to grow. Its members, past or present, loyal or unfaithful, dead or alive, active or passive had made their organization an institution where they feel they belong. Inspite of their regional differences or personal differences, the FAD never loses its grip. It leans, like a bamboo, in the face of the storm then swings back and eminently stands tall when it's calm.
